THEATRICAL -Miss Charlotte Thompson, one of the most accomplished actresses of the day, and perhaps the most popular one with the people of this city, appeared at the New Memphis Theatre last night as " Pauline," in Bulwer Lytton's popular drams of the Lady of Lyons. It is generally conceded that Miss Thompson, as "Pauline," has but few, if any superiors on the American stage; and her performance of the character last night was eminently worthy of the enviable reputation she has already won. From the moment of her appear, ance on the stage, the sympathy of the audience is secured in behalf of the beautiful and proud young woman, who, though brought up to think only of titles and rank, has enough sound sense to discriminate between fortune's favorites and nature's nobility. All the important interviews between "Pauline" and "Claude" were given in splendid style, and Miss Thompson was twice called in front of the curtain to receive the plaudid the scheming, villainous business that a finished actor could be as "Dumas," and the rest of the company were fully prepared for the parts assigned White caused the people to leave in the of the company were good in this piece, but Mr. Marston, as "Peter White," was with Miss Thompson in the great role of lar company.

fifty, a desperate negro named Bill Dickbeen warned, and on the first hostile movement assembled at a place of rendezvous previously agreed upon. They advanced toward the negroes, and were received with a volley. A desperate fight ensued, during which Dickson and another negro were killed, and Henry Turner and two negroes wounded. The fight lasted nearly half an hour, and ended in the complete discomfiture of the negroes, who fled in every direction, some of them subsequently returning and suing for pardon. Most of the arms in possession of the negroes were seized, and the most unruly of the mutineers were placed in close confinement. Mr. Turner's wound is in the head, painful but not dangerous. One of the Turners arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of obtaining arms and ammunition, in view of another uprising, which may or may not occur.

COUNTY COURT.-Judge Leonard and Magistrates Creighton, Pulliam, Harrell, Koen, Walker, Jones, Holman, Walton. Hildebrand, Moore, Miller, Brooks, Goodlet, Smith and Heinrich assembled in the Library Building this morning, where the County Court had been ordered to assemble by the Judge. There was a lively time all morning among the magistrates, lawyers and others in regard to Sunday night. She quarreled with her the removal of the county seat. Several of the magistrates wanted it held at Raleigh, Judge Leonard wished it held here. Esquire Jones presented a series of resolutions in favor of holding the court at Raleigh on Monday next. Judge Leonard ruled them out of order, which caused some talk, in which the Judge, magistrates and lawyers took part. The Judge finally exclaimed, "The court shall go on, by the Eternal!" bringing his gavel down with fice 247 Second street. Branch office thundering force on the table, and ordering Sheriff Winters to arrest any of the court who did not take their places. At this interesting part of the proceedings we had to leave.

ALL IMPORTANT. -In conversation with one of the agents of the Southern Life Insurance Company, he stated that the day Captain Monroe was killed he intimated that on the following day he would call at the office and take out an accidental policy of $10,000 upon his life. He was importuned to allow the agent to write him up" then and there, but declined, saying he wished to more fully understand the matter. He did not live to carry out his intention. By this delay the Company save $10,000, and the family of Capt. Monroe are deprived of the benefits which would have accrued to them through the possession of such a large sum of money. Delay not, then, but call on Capt. Ed. Smith or Mr. Geo. R. West, the General Agents of the Company, at their office, corner of Main and Madison streets, and take out a policy at once. Policies and tickets for sale at all agencies of the Company, railroad and steamboat offices in the city, and through-

Among the lucky ones at the late prize concert was the river editor of a morning cotemporary, who, we learn, drew a toothpick. The river fell three inches at Cairo vesterday, and the Peter Baler and Von Phul passed, southward bound. At Little Rock the Arkansas is falling slowly with ten and a half feet to Fort Smith and three and a half to Napoleon. The river is falling at St. Louis, with eight feet to Cairo. The Mollie Dozier, a sidewheel steamer, owned in St. Louis, struck a snag near Council Bluffs, Mo., on Friday last, and sank in seven feet of water. She was valued at $50,000, and insured in St Louis offices for $30,000. She will probably be raised.

Old Jack Lawson and George Wolofork, of Paducah, have purchased the F. H. Fairchild for a Cumberland river and New Orleans packet.

Yesterday's Louisville Courier says The river continues to fall quite fast, with only six feet water in the canal last evening by the mark. During the previous forty-eight hours it had fallen two feet at the head of the falls, and six feet at Portland.
